8(a) CAPABILITY STATEMENT

IFG provides Information Technology strategy and consulting services to government customers. Since 2008, IFG has solved critical government digital service issues resulting in more efficient and effective government operations for citizens. Technology has the power to change citizens' relationships with government services. We believe sharing expertise through coaching, mentoring, and working alongside our customers will maximize value and make the experience efficient and sustainable.

Our team has an extensive and complementary blend of professional experience in the public and private sectors accumulated over decades in senior positions with major technology and consulting firms, and state and federal agencies. This depth and breadth of skill and experience allows us to offer a variety of consulting services that span the IT life cycle to help our government clients reach their goals.
